Size does matter - a one of a kind LPG filling plant with 276 CUCs

'The Plant of the Future', the world's most modern, fully automatic filling plant in the middle of the desert, north of Kuwait City is truly a one of a kind facility. The KOTC filling plant encompasses the latest technology, customised machines and the finest equipment on the market today. Given that the project is the largest one in KC history, the site is packed with CUC controllers holding it all together! Grasp the vastness of the Kuwaiti plant by reading about the innovative equipment on site.

The Crisplant Universal Controller - monitor and configure your plant from other locations

Remote control your plant

Imagine filling software so elaborate that it is possible to monitor your plant from a single computer thousands of miles from the actual plant. Picture how all the data from the plant just flushes into your screen for you to monitor via mini computers. Think of a system so clever and intuitive that when updates and maintenance to your equipment are necessary, it can be done centrally saving countless man-hours. This is reality with the Crisplant Universal Controller (CUC) installed on every single machine produced by KC.
